New software Release

Jands has released ESP2 software version 1.4 for 24, 48, and 60 channel consoles. This software version supersedes all previous releases and may be retrofitted into all ESP2 consoles. This software includes the following change:

Fader filtering

DSP-type fader filtering algorithms have been included to reduce the jitter previously present on fader channels. The jitter was of little consequence, however it has been reported as causing undesirable VDU activity where a VDU option was fitted.
